

It has come to my attention that the FCC is considering a national standard telephone privacy law. This proposed law may preempt existing state laws. Indiana has such a telephone privacy law and I have not received any telephone solicitations since registering under Indiana's Law. It accomplishes perfectly what I desire in regard to eliminating unwanted telephone solicitations. Please do not diminish my protection under Indiana's Law by in any way preempting it.